

Credit Variables

Accessing credit variables allows you to quickly understand data and analyze the most important factors in an applicant's credit history, efficiently. For new CoreLogic® Teletrack™ customers, credit variables may reduce your time to market and the expense of calculating these variables using your own analytics tools. Existing Teletrack customers can also leverage these features when upgrading to a more sophisticated decisioning process.

CoreLogic Teletrack is able to return more than 100 variables by industry and time frame, as well as other variables that may be useful in predicting credit performance. You can specify the number and type of variables among those listed below that you wish to access.
